The reasons for ducking a trick are many and varied. Let's see a deal from the finals of a pairs game at a recent U.S. Summer Nationals. It was misplayed by almost every declarer who encountered it. Can you do better? You may want to consider it as a single-dummy problem by covering up the East and West cards.

If so, you have eight easy tricks but no comfortable route to reduce your trumps, a necessary move to achieve the trump coup to allow you to score that extra trump trick in dummy.

The right line (which combines deception and technique) is to duck the first club smoothly. There is no way the defenders will be able to work out what is going on in this suit — is there? Win the expected club continuation, and
